

...A runaway on a train, I'm not sure to where. But wherever I go...

You say things are worse in your country, but I don't know. One step forward, two steps back. Animals raised for food free range. But still raised to be something for someone else, not just to be.

I will fight for the freedom of all living beings for as long as I can. That is my destiny.